Disgruntled GI's and Congressmen Call for Gen. Eisenhower To Make Statement
McNARNEY IS HISSSED

Washington, Jan. 11.—(P)—Disgruntled GI's overseas and equally concerned congressmen called today for "Ike" to speak out plainly on the army's trouble harried demobilization program.

The great prestige which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower enjoys both with the army rank and file as well as with Capitol Hill lawmakers evidently made them want to hear what he had to say as chief of staff.

And it was pretty plain they were not interested in listening to anyone else first.

Demonstrating GI's in Frankfurt, Germany, last night chanted "we want Ike." That was after they booed and hissed the name of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, Eisenhower's successor as U. S. commander in Germany.

Simultaneously on Capitol Hill talk grew of a joint meeting of congress, possibly next Tuesday, to hear Eisenhower discuss the army's demobilization slow-down order of last week, as well as the revised discharge policy now in preparation. A senate military subcommittee also was assigned to look into the picture.

Eisenhower, now on an official visit to Canada, is not due back at his Pentagon office until the first of next week.

Fresh evidence of war department apprehension over the demobilization furor was reflected meanwhile in a speech by Under Secretary Rayall last night at Roanoke, Va.

Royall, who is heading the department while Secretary Patterson is on a Pacific inspection tour, deplored "American hysteria to get the boys home." This, he said, is "endangering our whole occupation policy."

"The ending of this hysteria is the responsibility of the people of America," he declared, "not of the army, not of the navy, not of the president, not of congress."

Should the rapid withdrawal of overseas personnel continue, Royall went on, "America will lose its (Turn to Page Eleven)

Jap Ministers Try To Solve Cabinet Crisis

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Jan. 11.—(P)—The aged and convalescent Premier Kijuro Shidehara will remain in office while his cabinet attempts to solve its political crisis by reorganization, the ministers decided today after a daylong meeting.

Some ministers submitted their resignations during the session in conformance with General MacArthur's Jan. 4 political purge directive, said sources close to the government. However, they declined to disclose the number of possible resignations.

Later, Kyodo News Agency said that Home Minister Z. Enjiro Horikuchi has resigned his resignation to Shidehara and that Education Minister, Tamon Maeda unauthoritatively was reported as planning to resign.

These sources also indicated that Shidehara originally desired the ministers' resignations en bloc, but agreed to remain in office and try a reorganization after arguments raised in today's meeting were played to him at his home.

The chief cabinet secretary, Daisaburo Tsugita, officially announced the cabinet's decision at 4:45 p. m. He said another meeting will be held probably Jan. 15, to determine the resignations of ministers affected by MacArthur's directive.

Tsugita gave no direct reason for the decision. He said, however, "The cabinet is confident the general elections will be carried out successfully." The elections, originally scheduled for this month, have been delayed probably two months by the cabinet crisis.

SECRET VOTE AT ASSEMBLY GIVEN BEFORE IS ATTACKED PEARL HARBOR

Ballot System Under Which Russian Candidate Is Defeated Draws Ire of Delegates
Instructions To Adm. Halsey By Adm. Kimmel Several Days Previous To Jap Attack

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
London, Jan. 11.—(P)—Russia launched an attack within the United Nations assembly today on the secret ballot system under which her candidate for assembly president was defeated at the first session yesterday.

Sentiment was reported developing within the American delegation, too, for abandonment of the rule under which Paul Henri Spaak, foreign minister of Belgium, was chosen assembly president, with the backing of Britain, and Trygve Lie, Norwegian foreign minister, defeated despite his support by Russia and the United States. One reason advanced was that secrecy is undemocratic.

Dmitri Manulsky, foreign minister of the Ukraine, one of the three USSR delegates, moved that hereafter all persons voted on for UNO office be nominated and discussed from the floor. Spaak was elected without his name being mentioned on the floor. Delegates wrote his name on secret ballots.

Action on the Soviet motion was blocked, however, when Cuban and other proposals came up and Spaak observed that the assembly was trying to discuss three things at once. He proposed that the question be sent to the legal committee, leaving the temporary rules in force, and Manulsky accepted the suggestion.

The Cuban delegate, Guy Perez Cisneros, raised the issue of the predominance of the big powers in the assembly by demanding a sweeping change in the proposed general or steering committee. The committee as projected by the preparatory commission would have 14 members, five of them big powers. Perez Cisneros argued either for a 51-nation steering committee or a limitation on its authority and a rule against re-election of its members so as to restrict big power membership.

Another development today was the possibility Australia may ask the assembly to reverse the preparatory commission's decision that permanent headquarters be near New York or Boston in order to bring up again the proposal to make the world peace capital at San Francisco. In a telegram published in today's official journal, Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco asked for reconsideration.

Reliable sources said the United States, Soviet Russia, Great Britain, France and China had agreed (Turn to Page Eleven)

Operators Strike In Capital

(NEA Telephoto)
All phone service except dial and emergency long-distance calls was halted in the nation's capital when operators deserted their switchboards to attend a mass meeting in protest against alleged "sweet-shop" conditions. Spokesmen said the Washington picket line has no connection with strikes affecting the industry elsewhere.

PICKET LINE INSTRUCTIONS ARE REVERSED AS MOST LONG DISTANCE CALLS ARE HELD UP

By the Associated Press
Pickets marched before nearly every American Telephone and Telegraph Company exchange in the nation today, shutting off most long distance calls, and a labor department official said government seizure of the industry might be recommended if a country-wide tie-up of phone service results.

President Ernest Weaver of the Association of Communications Equipment Workers Union ordered the picket lines established today, reversing instruction last night to postpone the picketing until Monday.

A labor department official in Washington who requested that his name not be used said Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach had been advised that Weaver would make an effort to have the pickets withdrawn.

Discussion Is Being Held On Steel Walkout

New York, Jan. 11.—(P)—With an industry-wide strike of 800,000 steelworkers at stake, heads of the CIO United Steelworkers Union and the U. S. Steel Corporation were here again today to discuss the union's demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Three-man delegates headed by Philip Murray, president of the union and of the CIO, and Benjamin Fairless, president of the nation's biggest steel producer, conferred for three hours yesterday but adjourned without giving any indication what progress—if any—had been made in settling the wage dispute.

Yesterday's meeting was the first since collective bargaining talks were broken off last October when the company refused to make any concession on the union demands for a $2-a-day pay raise and was held amid speculation that a basis for a settlement has been reached.

The corporation had been expected to make a wage increase offer to the union at the start of the meeting and Murray previously declared that if the offer were satisfactory he would notify union officials to hold the strike "in abeyance." But the meeting adjourned without any sign that a wage offer had been extended.

The recommendation of President Truman's fact-finding committee for a 19 1/2 cents an hour increase for striking General Motors employees may have some bearing on the steel negotiations. It was indicated in CIO circles last night that nothing less than a similar increase would be acceptable to the steelworkers union.

BULLETINS

Erie, Jan. 11.—(P)—Employees of the Bell Telephone Co. and the Pennsylvania Telephone Corporation went to work today through picket lines in front of both offices.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 11.—(P)—Paul Heinz, Pawnee county district judge, today granted a temporary injunction restraining 12 striking Western Electric installation workers from picketing the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company offices in "Topeka and vicinity."

Weirton, W. Va., Jan. 11.—The CIO-United Steelworkers strike scheduled for Monday won't keep Weirton Independent Union workers from their jobs in the Weirton Steel Company plant here, Larry Lafferty, president of the Union, declared today.

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—(P)—The Ohio Federation of Telephone Employees called off their jobs at noon today its approximately 7500 members employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 11.—(P)—About 35 telephone operators were clustered near the Washington (Turn to Page Eleven)

Federal Seizure Is Threat In Walkout

Washington, Jan. 11.—(P)—A labor department official said today that, if picket lines around telephone exchanges result in a nationwide tie-up in phone service, government seizure of the telephone industry may be recommended.

This official, who requested that his name not be used, said Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach had been informed that Ernest Weaver, president of the striking Independent Association of Communications Equipment Workers, would make an effort to have the pickets withdrawn.

Seizure steps apparently depend on the outcome of a conference this afternoon between Schwellenbach, Joseph Biene, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, and others involved in the strike of Western Electric Company employees.

Case Against Dr. Schacht Is Strengthened

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 11.—(P)—A Czech victim of the Lachau concentration camp testified today that five of the 22 top Nazi defendants on trial as war criminals visited the Dachau compound at a time when many of the most horrifying experiments of human beings were in progress. The witness, Dr. Franz Blaha, pointed directly into the prisoners' box and identified Wilhelm Frick, former minister of interior; Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi party philosopher; Walter Funk, former Reichsbank president, and Fritz Sauckel, who was in charge of slave labor, as four of the visitors. He looked for the fifth man he accused, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, but that one-time security police chief still was absent because of a cranial hemorrhage.

ERIE ESTABLISHMENTS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Erie, Jan. 11.—(P)—Two fires early today caused damage estimated unofficially at $35,000 to three Erie establishments.

Fireman Ralph Wheeler sustained cuts while fighting a blaze at Pickwick Club, where damage was estimated at $15,000. Fire and water caused $15,000 damage to the Fowler Heating Company's store below.

The second fire was at the Rubberoid Co., which manufactures insulation, roofing, and the like, in East Erie.

Officials Seek New Clues In Unsuccessful Effort To Find Chicago's Sadist Kidnaper

BULLETIN
Chicago, Jan. 11.—(P)—For the last time, little Suzanne Degnan was brought today to the grey stone church where in life she knelt and prayed. Victim of one of Chicago's most heinous crimes, the six-year-old girl was borne into St. Gertrude's church in a simple white casket, carried by six boy pallbearers, schoolmates in Sacred Heart school, which she attended. In the age-old rites of the Roman Catholic Church, the girl was met at the door by the pastor, the Rev. George Kearney, who celebrated "The Mass of the Angels" for the little parishioner who only a few weeks ago portrayed an angel in a school Christmas pageant. The "Mass of the Angels" is a funeral rite reserved for children under the age of seven. Police Lt. James Schwartz placed at 300 the number of persons gathered outside the church when the funeral cortege arrived from a North Side undertaking parlor several miles away.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(P)—City and Cook county law enforcement officials turned to new clues today after four days of intensified, but unsuccessful, search for the sadist who kidnaped and killed six-year-old Suzanne Degnan and then chopped her body to pieces.

The collapse of one clue after another, many of which had been regarded as important, brought no let-down in the police investigation as a picked squad of officers searched for new leads which would trap the kidnap-killer.

As funeral services for the victim of one of Chicago's most ghastly crimes were being held, police said they had not uncovered any new clues definitely linking any one person as a top suspect.

Two janitors who work in the Edgewater district on the north side where the Degnan family lives, were released from police custody yesterday on writs of habeas corpus.

One, Hector Verburgh, 65, had been in custody for 48 hours for questioning after police said the Degnan girl's body had been hacked to pieces in the basement of an apartment building he tended.

But the state's attorney's office told Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the criminal court that the state had no evidence to warrant filing charges against either Verburgh or Desore Smet, 35, who also tends apartment buildings near the Degnan home, or Mr. Verburgh's wife, Mary, 64.

Verburgh, as well as Smet, had repeatedly denied any connection with the kidnapping and dismemberment of Suzanne, the daughter of James E. Degnan, OPA executive.

More than a dozen men have been picked up for questioning in connection with the crime. Only (Turn to Page Eleven)

Deshon To Become Mental Institution

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11.—(P)—State Secretary of Welfare S. M. R. O'Hara said here last night that the state welfare department will recommend turning the $9,000,000 Deshon Hospital at Butler into an institution for mental patients after its abandonment by the army.

Miss O'Hara, attending a Republican party dinner, revealed the welfare department plan for Deshon after learning the army will terminate its lease June 30.

Army orders set April 30 as the deadline for moving patients to other institutions. There was no indication where the patients would be taken.

The Veterans' Administration plans to build a 1,200-bed hospital in Pittsburgh to serve veterans of this area.

Deshon Hospital was built by the state for use of tubercular patients but never served this purpose. The institution was taken over by the army in 1942.

MAYOR HOSPITALIZED

Hazleton, Jan. 11.—(P)—Clarence Monday, was in Hazleton since J. Lonzer, mayor of Hazleton State Hospital today recovering from an emergency appendectomy. Lonzer, operated on last night, was reported in good condition by hospital attaches.

Details for March of Dimes Campaign Being Worked Out

Zonta Club members worked out many additional details for the 1946 March of Dimes campaign for infantile paralysis when they gathered at the YWCA activities building on Thursday for their luncheon-meeting.

Basel O'Connor, president of the National Federation for Infantile Paralysis, has announced the national March of Dimes will officially open at Dime Box, Texas, on Sunday, January 13, continuing through January 31.

The Zonta Club which will again sponsor the collection in Warren and surrounding communities, has set Saturday, January 19, for its "tag day."

Headquarters for the local drive will be established in the YWCA activities building, the hours to be from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. Girls from the Freshman and High School Girls' Clubs of the YWCA Girl Reserve department will conduct the street sales locally.

Containers for the sales girls are being provided by the Walker Creamery Products Company and residents of Watson Memorial Home will string the tags.

Proposed Re-Routing of Road Would Eliminate Crossings

Discussion has been rife in Warren over the proposed widening of Pennsylvania avenue, west for some distance and whole new route eastward using the island and Lexington avenue. This would eliminate several grade crossings over railroads and the borough is soon to start action against the Pennsylvania railroad in an endeavor to eliminate the dangerous crossing on Pennsylvania avenue, near the depot.

Now it is learned that the Highway Engineers have been making plans for the rerouting of the highway from the left of the New Warren where both overhead crossings would be done away with and the highway would have a better grade and several bad curves tossed to one side.

Under the proposed plan the Youngville business section will be by-passed by the relocation of Route 6. It will swing to the right near the entrance into Youngville from the west, cross the Brokenstraw and follow along the railroad to the present overhead near the county home.

The proposed routing of the highway would leave Youngville to the right of the present overhead crossing and would traverse lands of the National Forge and Ordnance Company into Irvine. Here it would pass the National Forge plant.

Tracks of the New York Central would be shoved back from the hillside and the highway would continue to the left of the New York Central tracks to lands of the Irvine Estate. Through them to the present overhead at Irvine the route would be straight and the intersection with the present highway would be made just east of the overhead. This would eliminate all of the bad railroad crossings, the dangerous curves where the Allegheny Springs highway leaves Route 6 at present.

This projected route would be an expensive proposition to build as the cutting away of the hillside between the New York Central tracks would require much labor and blasting as the hillside is almost all solid rock. The improvement however would be worth the cost as the plans of the state to make Route 6 the best east and west route in the northern tier of counties call for practically the rebuilding of the entire route. Laid years ago before the days of heavy traffic Route 6 is obsolete with the exception of a few stretches built just prior to the war.

Highways Secretary John U. Shroyer is anxious to make this route one of easy grades, few curves and calls for the elimination of scores of dangerous grade crossings. It is planned to make the highway modern in every way both in width and depth of concrete.

Warren generally seems not to be in a hurry to solve the problems that are to be solved in this immediate vicinity as not only is Route 6 to be rerouted west of and through Warren but from Warren to Kane there are great stretches to be rebuilt on new location.

Olean Engineer Submits New Plan To Relieve Flood Threat

The following press dispatch sent out from Pittsburgh during the week is attracting considerable attention among river improvement boosters in the valley:

An $18,000,000 flood control project, designed to control flood waters of the Allegheny river by partial diversion of the river into Lake Erie, was proposed to the Pittsburgh office of the Army Corps of Engineers today by Nelson M. Fuller, sanitary engineers and Olean water superintendent.

Fuller contended that diversion of the river into Lake Erie, if it replaced proposed construction of the Kinzua dam and the multipurpose reservoir proposed by the corps of engineers, would relieve Pittsburgh of nearly a cubic mile of flood water every year.

In his plan submitted to Army engineers, he suggested construction control gates at Coldspring, near Red House, N. Y., and constructing a new channel beginning at Coldspring north through the Conewango valley to Irving, N. Y., where the channel would empty into Lake Erie.

Fuller estimated cost of the channel, including diversion structures in the river, bridges and hydraulic equipment, would be less than half the cost of Kinzua dam, which had been placed at $37,000,000.

The proposed channel, Fuller said, would follow the pre-glacial course of the Allegheny river to West Ferrysburg, N. Y., at which point it would drop 600 feet into Cattaraugus creek. The creek he said, would be straightened near Irving.

The channel would be 30 miles long and would pass close to Steamburg, Randolph, Conewango Valley, Cherry Creek, South Dayton and West Ferrysburg before reaching Irving.

Fuller said the diversion channel would have other economic advantages besides protecting Pittsburgh from flood waters. These he listed as protection of Jamestown and Falconer from annual flooding by Conewango creek drainage; transforming the Conewango creek region, by proper drainage, into a thriving agricultural area, and increased power development at Niagara Falls through additional water discharged into Lake Erie. He said the channel drop from West Ferrysburg in Cattaraugus creek also would provide a hydraulic power development which would make the project self-liquidating.

Turkeys By Mail Object Of New Firm

It was learned today that Ben Mathis and Delbert W. Lewis have formed a partnership to be known as the Consolidated Turkey Farms to specialize in the raising of high grade gobblers on an extensive scale to be distributed mostly through mail orders.

The farm will be located on property already secured on the Big Four road in Glade township, and orders have already been placed for 8,000 poult which will begin arriving within a week.

The firm has plans for the erection of a modern turkey farm with coops of the latest designs, including self-feeders, cooling system, slaughtering houses and feather picking equipment. The main coop will be 500 feet long. Feed mash will be purchased in carload lots, although it is proposed to grow much of the grain and other feed on the property. Special buildings will be erected to store the feed.

Both Mr. Mathis and Mr. Lewis are experienced turkey raisers. The former has been raising gobblers on his farm on Fifth avenue extension for eight years, and last season, the first for Mr. Lewis, proved a most successful one for picking equipment. They stated today that they have already received orders for several thousand turkeys to be delivered this fall.

County Extension Group Will Hold Meeting on Wednesday

Next Wednesday the annual meeting of the Warren County Extension Group will be held at the Court House. This promises to bring a large number of agriculturists to the city. The meetings will be arranged in two sessions with a noon luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. in conjunction with the Warren Kiwanis Club.

The morning session will convene at 10:30 and will be marked by reports of the various workers in the organization and other items of business. The annual election of officers will also be held.

At noon following the luncheon Dr. Kenneth Hood, of State College will give an address on "The Agricultural Outlook for 1946". Dr. Hood is a capable speaker and his talk will undoubtedly be one of interest to all who attend.

Following the luncheon the afternoon session will convene at the Court House a group of 4-H Clubbers will present a skit "Democracy Our Foundation". This will be followed by two reels of motion pictures on "Pennsylvania Agriculture".

The program of the day will close with a talk by H. J. Niesley of State College. Mr. Niesley is assistant director of the extension work of State College and his talk will be worthwhile in every way.

Women's Residential Division Organized for Hospital Drive

Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, chairman of the Women's Residential Division of the Warren General Hospital campaign has reported to General Chairman Eaton that she has enlisted six section chairmen, who will have charge of the solicitation of contributions for the New Hospital Building Fund in the campaign for $400,000 which opens on January 22.

They are Mrs. R. S. Gibb, Mrs. H. Blair, Mrs. J. W. A. Luce, Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. J. B. Leidig, and Mrs. J. P. Fenstermacher. Each section chairman will get five captains, who, in turn, will enlist five workers each which will complete an organization whose job will be to see that all residents of Warren borough get the opportunity to contribute.

T. J. Milenius, county chairman, held a meeting of his county area chairmen at the Carver Hotel and outlined plans to cover all sections of the county. Each area chairman will get a chairman and workers for each district and will have their separate campaign meetings where it is not possible to attend the Y. W. C. A. meetings of the main organization. The area chairmen are: Mrs. J. W. Moll, Russell; Mrs. Ruth Grant, Sugar Grove; Warren Kay, Youngsville; Gerald Rickerson, North Warren; Mrs. M. E. Bucklin, and Mrs. F. M. Buckingham, Tidioute; Myron B. Messner, Grand Valley; Mrs. Eleanor Smith, Clarendon.

Mr. Milenius pointed out to his chairmen that from June 1944 to August 1945 over 2000 out of town patients were admitted to the Warren General Hospital and most of them were from all sections of the county.

One of the features of the campaign is the one whereby certain sections of the new buildings can be set aside as a memorial. Many inquiries have been received concerning the setting apart of a room or other suitable place as a memorial in honor of someone whose memory is held dear. Individuals, families and groups may take part in creating a memorial which will serve to enrich the lives of others.

New Collection of Memorial Books At the Public Library

Among the memorial books presented recently to the public library which are now on display is a collection commemorating Jane Allen Marymont. The books will be exhibited until they are released for circulation on January 19th. There are also other publications which are on order, which will be exhibited at a later date.

There are books on child care, the theatre, music, art, dogs and the war in the display. All of the books are titles which should receive considerable reader attention.

The books on child care are Living With Children by Gertrude E. Chittenden and Child Care and Training by Marion L. Faegre and John E. Anderson. The books of theatre interest are The Best Plays of 1944-45 by Burns Mantle, The Critics' Prize Plays by George Jean Nathan; The B. O. W. S. by Margalo and Patricia Gilmore, and The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams.

Books relating to the last World War are Up Front by Bill Mauldin; Here Is Your Man by Ernie Pyle and Brave Men, also by Ernie Pyle. Two titles of interest to dog lovers are Especially Spaniels by Gladys Tarber and Dogs' Photographs by Ylla.

The books on music are Syd Skolsky's Evenings With Music and The Record Book by David Hall. Whistler by James W. Lane is also in the collection.

Youngsville Borough Council Reorganizes At Meet Monday

Youngsville, Jan. 10 — Regular meeting of the Youngsville Borough Council was held Monday evening January 7th in the Borough building. Routine business occupied part of the evening. The treasurer reported as follows:

General account, $9,116.06; sewer account, $957.66; water account, $5,567.86. G. R. Ball, tax collector paid 1945 taxes of $515.94. This payment leaves the delinquent tax approximately $40.00. After approval of the bills for the month of December and approval of the Police report, the regular meeting was adjourned.

After Warren Kay had been sworn in as burgess of Youngsville, the re-organization meeting was then called to order, and the following councilmen sworn in to office: Charles A. Jones, as a new member; E. Leo Johnson, Robert W. Spencer and Earl E. Young, re-elected members. The following officers were then re-elected to office: President, E. Leo Johnson; secretary, Miss Margaret Brazee and treasurer, Charles W. Spencer.

L. L. Johnson, fire chief and Lee Stiller, representing the firemen brought before the council for their consideration, the purchase of a reusciator and the installing of two fire alarm boxes within the business section of town. After a thorough discussion by council members the matter was tabled. The opinion being that before further action could be taken by the council, there should be further action by the fire department and by citizens of the borough.

The council approved the purchase of a trial one pumper hydrant with a view of additional hydrants to be installed if the one purchased is satisfactory. A program for protection of the various hydrants in the borough from damage from cars and trucks was brought before the council. Borough Superintendent White was instructed to purchase the necessary materials and, weather permitting, have the guards placed about the hydrants.

C. E. Anderson was appointed by the president to check on the proposed street light on the I. O.

Juvenile Fatally Shot By Detective

Philadelphia, Jan. 11—(AP)—A Reading Railroad detective shot and killed a 15-year-old boy last night and wounded his teen-age companion as they apparently tried to break into two refrigerator cars that stood on a siding, police reported today.

The dead boy was William Smith. Police identified the injured boy as Charles Anderson, 15.

Harry J. Donnelly, 50, the detective, told police he noticed three boys lurking in the freight yards. They began tampering with a refrigerator car, he said, and he called upon them to surrender. When they started to run away he fired. Donnelly told police the third boy escaped.

Final Results Announced In County's Victory Loan Drive

Neil D. Paterson, chairman of the Warren County Victory Loan Drive, today announced the final results in this great drive for "THE LOAN TO WIN THE PEACE". Every resident of Warren County who contributed to the splendid success of this final drive can feel justly proud that he and his fellow citizens did not fail to finish their task. Every quota was oversubscribed and the grand total of loans to the Government was almost double the amount requested. Here is the final report.

	Quota	Sales	Percent
"E" Bonds	$ 585,000	$ 627,000	107.2
Total Individual	1,035,000	1,527,000	147.6
Corporate Bonds	1,000,000	2,481,400	248.1

DANGEROUS DISCONTENT

There is more than homesickness behind the sorry picture of discontent, low morale and vanishing discipline among American troops in Manila. A deep resentment is also evident, which apparently arises from a number of conflicting stories and half truths as to why the men aren't being sent home.

A service newspaper, the Daily Pacifican, may have struck at the root of the trouble with this illuminating statement: "We were briefed on our mission during the days of combat. Let us be briefed now!"

No one blames the soldier or sailor overseas for wanting to come home. Combat veteran or not, the man with months of foreign service deserves the speediest possible return to civilian life. It is the duty of the Army and Navy and of the whole country to see that he gets it.

But unfortunately there must be American troops in Europe and the Pacific regions for a long time to come. The fighting has stopped, but turbulence and unrest remain. The men of the occupying forces have an extremely important task to perform in securing the victory so dearly won.

The Army has made it clear to those at home that voluntary enlistment and Selective Service are not now providing enough men to handle this occupation job. Thus the rate of discharge for men in the service must be slowed up for a time. It has explained that the precarious and volatile state of peace in the Pacific makes necessary the presence of a sizable force in the strategic base of Manila, and that our soldiers are there to guard the peace, not the Filipinos.

But has the Army explained this fully to the men involved? Are they briefed for their peacetime mission as fully as they were for combat? Apparently not, judging from the service paper quoted above and from other statements by soldiers in Manila. At any rate, something has happened to turn part of a mighty fighting force of superior spirit and strength into an army of protesting, demonstrating malcontents.

One of the worst aspects of an obviously bad situation is that the soldiers' grievances are playing right into the hands of the domestic Communists, whose latest line is "bring the boys home"—a solicitude which no one can be so naive as to take at face value.

Soldiers were asked at a Manila mass meeting if they wanted to be used to further British imperialism in Java and to help Chiang Kai-shek defeat the Chinese Communists. They were given handbills which asked: "Do you want to be used as pressure for compulsory military training legislation?"

There is a threat of real harm to domestic accord, American policy and, ultimately, world peace if this situation is allowed to continue and develop. It is up to the Army to straighten it out, quickly, frankly and fairly.

JUST SHOWING OFF

The United States of America, modestly proud of such American inventions as the atomic bomb and the late Aimee McPherson's streamlined gospel tabernacle, has been accused by the Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, "Red Dean" of Canterbury, of being 100 years behind the rest of the world in everything except religion—and 150 years behind in that.

It seems only yesterday that this country was being disparaged by another leftist Englishman, Prof. Harold Laski. But we don't mind any more, because we think we have the whole thing figured out. These liberal Britons are just trying to show off in the most conventional way.

From the days of Charles Dickens to those of Bernard Shaw, it apparently has been considered the hallmark of a first-rate British literary mind to insult the United States. We suspect that Prof. Laski and Dr. Johnson may just be aping their literary betters.

Should the weatherman make good predictions of colder weather and snow over the weekend we can at least be thankful for the week of balmy weather enjoyed since last Friday.

With the world still in great turmoil there is great need for spiritual help and guidance. More reason for you to go to church Sunday.

How to Make a Face

JUNIOR may never become a great sculptor, but he can have fun with that modeling clay if you show him how. And here's how. You, too, can make faces. They may be funny but all the better for junior.

Make your clay egg shape and size, then follow the pictures. Remember, as you work down, keep pushing the clay down so that the cheeks, mouth and chin areas are kept level with the bottom of the eye sockets.

Use the head of a match to make holes for eyes and nostrils. For ears, pinch with thumb and forefinger. Hair can be made by running the flat of the thumb from the center of the head toward the sides. The clay plowing up ahead of it resembles a hank of hair.

When the head is completed you can have more fun with a little experiment. Push the whole face in with the flat of your hand and you create a character that looks like he had his pushed in plenty in the ring. Or you can press from each side with your palms. Your fat-faced friend is likely to become lean and his mouth will probably pop open in surprise. Push up an eyebrow with your finger and he will become quizzical.

If you want a lifelike sneer, just push the match up into one nostril too far. In fact that's the secret of giving the youngsters a laugh. Make a mistake—intentional or otherwise—on any one feature and it's good for a laugh.

Your work won't get into any exhibits and the product may look like Neanderthal man. But so what?

Hughes, ace news commentator, war correspondent and lecturer, will open the Talk-of-the-Month Club lecture series in Warren Friday night of next week on the familiar radio theme "News and Views by John B. Hughes". The first of the four lecture-forum meetings of the club will open at 8:30 o'clock, in Founders Hall of First Methodist church.

Approximately 400 members have enrolled in the Talk of the Month Club and look forward with keen anticipation to the opening program a week from tonight. The Men's Bible Class of First Methodist church, one of the club sponsors, will be in charge of this opening session and will provide the chairman, whose name will be announced later.

Hello Gals Given Wage Boost In State

Announcement was made today (January 8th) by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania that a contract has been signed between the Company and the Traffic Employees' Union providing for a $5 a week increase for all of the Company's telephone operators in the state—numbering approximately 11,000. The increase represents a post-war adjustment in wages.

The contract was signed Monday, January 7th and becomes effective next Sunday, January 13th.

Under the terms of the new contract, negotiations for which were initiated by the Union, the beginning rate for experienced operators is $25 in this city for a 40-hour week. This basic rate progresses by periodic increases to a maximum of $36 for a five-day week. As operators in virtually all locations now are working either a 5½ or 6-day week, the increase means that the take home pay is much higher than the new minimum and maximum rates.

Corydon, Jan. 7.—Mrs. L. F. Baltz informs us that the young people of the Nazarene church are uniting the first Friday evening of each month for a social time and other activities, the gatherings to be held at the respective homes of the membership group. Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Joy, Miss Gertrude Joy, Charles and George Joy, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Crooks, Miss Margaret Crooks, Corydon. Kenenuth and sons, Junior and Sandy, Mrs. Miller and daughter Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson and daughter Betty, all of Bradford.

Upon turning the pages of last Thursday evening's edition of Warren Times-Mirror, localites met the smiling countenance of Miss Beverly Prue, star of the week model for Bety Lee, one of Warren's well known shops. It was an excellent likeness of Miss Prue, well as her charming escort Stuart LaDow, student at Cornell college, Ithaca.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Corydon M. E. church met with Mrs. Jessie Bennett. Illness prevented attending however a few were present. Lunch was served and from away attending was Rev. V. A. Oviatt, of Kinzua.

McKenney On Bridge

LEADING DEUCE INTO LONG SUIT SETS BID

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

A new event, the United States open individual championship, was inaugurated at the national tournament this year. For many years the American Contract Bridge League has conducted the Masters individual world championship in which 38 outstanding players are invited to participate. The new event drew 124 players, and was played in two sessions. It was won by Theodore Samuel of Easton, Pa. Individual tournaments are difficult to play in, because each participant plays a different partner and against a different set of opponents each round.

Various results were obtained on today's hand. Over one club, some players bid four diamonds. At other tables, South opened the bidding with one spade, which kept East and West out of trouble. At one table, East bid two no trump over one club, and with a spade opening, East and West took 13 tricks. At Mr. Samuel's table, East and West got into a four-spade contract. If South had opened a club, the contract would have been made, but with the ace of hearts opening, three heart tricks was cashed immediately. Then Mr. Samuel made a fine play. He led the deuce of diamonds right into the long diamond suit in dummy. You can see that it was then impossible for declarer to make his contract.

Fifteen million tons of paper are used annually in the United States.

Maj.-Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former chief of staff of the Fifth Army and later the Fifteenth Army Division, paid a visit to the national tournament at Atlantic City. The General has always been interested in bridge, and some of you may recall the hand I wrote up in which he played with Gen. Dwight Eisenhower against Gen. Mark Clark and Commander Butcher. General Gruenther is now in the United States to assume his new duties as Deputy Commandant of the Army and Navy Staff College in Washington.

I had the pleasure of being his partner in one of the special games during the national tournament, and we won the game. The General seemed particularly to enjoy playing the hand shown.

He won the opening lead with the ace of spades and led the three of hearts. West won and continued with the queen of spades. The General trumped with the six of diamonds, led the eight of diamonds and win in dummy with the nine. Next he played the queen of hearts. East refused to cover. General Gruenther trumped with the ten of diamonds, led the diamond jack and won in dummy with the king. The jack of hearts was led and when East covered, the General trumped with the diamond queen and remarked, "Gentlemen, that is all." He still had the ace of clubs, a diamond for entry into dummy and all the good hearts.

Pittsburgh Young People Are Wed In Warren Rites

A lovely double wedding ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. New Year's Day in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Drum, 511 West street, which united in marriage Miss Agnes Ehrenfeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ehrenfeld, Palo Alto, St. Petersburg, Pa., and Warren M. Johnson, son of Mrs. Sadie Johnson, 3320 Ward street, Pittsburgh; and Miss Genevieve Selman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Selman, Perrysville avenue, Pittsburgh, and Clarence Buchanan, 3320 Ward street, Pittsburgh.

The rites were performed by the Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, of North Warren. The ceremony was especially significant in that the bridegrooms had been buddies of long standing, and, after a separation of four years, in which both had fought in the European theatre and on in the African campaign, they were fortunately reunited and discharged about the same time.

Miss Ehrenfeld wore a teal blue suit and Miss Selman, a Nile green suit, each with brown accessories and corsage of baby pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception dinner was served by the hostess. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with four miniature bride figures. White candles and pompons completed the attractive arrangements.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Sadie Johnson, Miss Joyce Johnson, Miss Marjorie Fucci, Pittsburgh; Cpl. Howard E. Johnson, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Albin Johnson, Bradford; Miss Dolores Drum, Gordon Drum, Mrs. Winifred Anderson, Craig Drum, Warren.

After a short stay in Warren, the couples returned to Pittsburgh, where they are employed and will reside in Oakland.

Original Play By Young People Are Local Man Choice Voted Members of For Sunday Drama Recreation Unit

"The King Must Not Look Pale," which is to be presented by a cast of Warren Players Sunday afternoon over WJTN, was written by William H. Wright in 1939 and first produced in 1940. The fine verse drama of the 16th century won the first award in the Warren Players original playwriting competition in 1939, and was given a memorable production on the Players' stage the following year. It was also presented in the Jamestown Little Theatre.

Mr. Wright's second historical drama, "Some Form Grows Perfect," was written and produced the following year. It received the Maxwell Anderson award in the Stanford University contest and was also published in the One Act Play Magazine. Both plays show a particular gift for this type of beautiful and moving dramatic writing.

The plays were produced by the Warren Players on the Woman's Club stage. Byron Knapp handled the direction of "The King Must Not Look Pale" and Olive Archibald Huff directed "Some Form Grows Perfect." Mrs. Huff has made the radio adaptation of "The King Must Not Look Pale" and is directing its production over station WJTN.

This play will make a fitting closing to this first radio drama series presented by the Warren Players on the Metzger-Wright program, under the direction of Mrs. Huff. "The King Must Not Look Pale" has real dramatic effectiveness, with unforgettable lines and an adroitly handled situation.

The characterization is memorable and the cast is one that should give the play a fine presentation. In the cast are Margaret Lewis, Jack MacDonald, Louis Critelli, Duane Wilder, Kenneth Graham, Frank Crulickshank, and George Cunningham. The hour to tune in is two o'clock Sunday afternoon, over Station WJTN, 1240 on the dial.

Thursday evening, at a special meeting of the Committee on Community Recreation, six young people were voted in as new members of the committee. They are Bill Blair, Barbara Benson, Rita Scrivano, Bud Marrer, and Wilmer Latshaw, and Don White.

Five of the new members have served regularly as heads of community party committees and the president of the student council has always been voted in as a member of the committee since its organization, two years ago last fall. Don White is president of this year's student council.

The committee on Community Recreation has cooperated with the Community Council P. T. A. by planning and working out all the community parties at Beaty school, which the P. T. A. Council has sponsored. Dates have been set for two parties a month in this new series, on the first and third Saturdays of each month. One change may be made in February, which will be announced next week. A children's party is also being planned for February.

Mrs. Walter Mather reported that the borough council and the board of school directors had agreed to cooperate on an ice skating program again this winter at Beaty school. The borough council will pay for supervision and lend hose for flooding and the school will furnish the facilities, water and light. The P. T. A. Council is to make the necessary arrangements.

The committee is asking for co-operation and volunteer help to assist with the initial flooding of the court. If volunteers respond, the court will be flooded as soon as the weather permits. Last year's skating program was a very successful one with Giulio Fino as the chairman of the committee.

NEW PASSENGER CAR TIRE

COMING SOON! NEW B. F. GOODRICH TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,800,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

MYSTERY IN SHELL

A fifty-calibre shell was found near the alley-way in Liberty street between Pennsylvania and Second avenues Thursday afternoon and turned over to Officer Charles Musante of the local police force. A former detective who examined the shell reported that the code letters of the armament factory where it was made were "S. L." and the year that it was made was 1943. He removed the cap and powder. How such a dangerous missile came to be found in the center of the business district remains a mystery.

Hunt Gypsies Who Gyped By Old Game

Reminiscent of the working of an old racket by which a Warren woman lost several hundreds of dollars some years ago has come to light in Ridgway. The Warren woman recovered most of her money.

The Elk county Grand Jury, at the January term of court is scheduled to convene in Ridgway next Monday and it will be asked to indict Mrs. John Richstag and Mrs. Catherine Stokes, charged with larceny of $2,349, alleged to have been stolen from Mrs. Severin Carlson of Ridgway. No trace of the pair has been found since the theft of the money in December, 1944.

The Ridgway police department is asking for an indictment because of the statute of limitations which for a charge of larceny is two years. The alleged theft was made when the Mesdames Richstag and Stokes, Gypsies, operated a business in Ridgway for the purpose of selling books on palmistry.

After making several visits to the store, Mrs. Carlson began to believe in the power of Gypsies and they gained her confidence. Withdrawing her life savings from the local bank, Mrs. Carlson took the cash to the Gypsies. One of them sewed the money in a piece of cloth and then applied two more layers and told Mrs. Carlson to take it home and place it in a mattress and leave it untouched until July 1, 1945, when the amount would be doubled.

Her curiosity aroused, Mrs. Carlson on June, 1945 removed the package from the mattress and found only pieces of paper in it.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

A few weeks ago a letter was received by Emery Peterson from France, a letter expressing deep gratitude for a suit of clothes received in a U. N. R. R. A. distribution.

The suit for which the Frenchman was so grateful was one of many articles of clothing collected and packed at the Washington and

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Lincoln Schools last spring. It must be very gratifying to the persons who donated and to the committee members who spent so much time in sorting and packing, to know that their efforts have brought comfort to those in need.

It can be assumed that the rest of the shipment reached its destination, since this one suit was acknowledged. No doubt many names and addresses were inserted among the donations, but only this one has been fortunate enough to receive a letter. That is not really surprising, and should not be interpreted as meaning that other recipients are less grateful. Few can speak or write English, and those who can, perhaps, lack writing materials and the money for postage.

The last statement gives us an idea. If you want a letter from the person who receives your next donation of clothing, send not only a slip of paper, but a self-addressed envelope and a coin or two to cover postage. It's worth trying, isn't it? And your "next donation" can be right now, for a drive is on to collect the desperately needed clothing for the war-torn of Europe and Far East.

Start your spring house cleaning now. Find those out-grown or out-moded suits, sweaters, underclothing, shoes. Almost anything is accepted that is wearable or can be made wearable. Schools will again serve as collection centers. Hunt out and send in your gifts today.

DRAGONS OPEN LEAGUE SCHEDULE AT OIL CITY TONITE

Seventh Victory At Stake For Locals; Massa Forced To Make Change In Lineup

Warren High's Dragon basketball team set out in defense of their title tonight when they meet the Oil City team at the Lincoln Junior High school at Oil City.

The Blue and Whites have captured the Section Two title for two consecutive years switching from district Nine to district Ten and did they be successful again tonight they will be awarded trophy for winning the championship in succession by the Oil City team.

Other league action tonight Meadville against Titusville at Meadville.

The Oilers do not boast an entire pre-league record, but they are out to attempt an upset of the undefeated locals. The Oilers have won three out of six games.

Tonight's attraction will be the seventh for the Massmen to date season. As yet, no opponent has been able to dent the local defense for more than thirty minutes. Probably the toughest opposition will be encountered against Franklin, which is the return of five lettermen in 1945-6 campaign.

Warren Massa will be forced to make changes in his lineup tonight. Dick Harris, the six-foot wing forward, was sidelined Tuesday when he received a sprained ankle in practice. Harris' treatment revealed no fracture or broken bones, but it is expected that he will be out of the lineup for at least a week or ten days.

Massa will substitute either Gail Nelson, a 6 foot 2 inch frosh, or Tony Vesio in Harris' forward slot. The remainder of the local lineup will continue the same. Babcock at the forward post, Eaton at center, and Reed and Simmons at the guard positions.

The Oil City mentor, "Bud" Wells, will start with Buckham and Cook at the forward posts, Kistler at center, and Dawson and Parker at guards. Maurice Koford, a regular starter, received an ankle injury in the Oil City-Erie East game Tuesday and will not see action.

The second quint of both schools will meet at 7:30 in a preliminary, and the main game is scheduled for 8:45.

Ski Train Disembarking from first peace-time ski train at North Conway, N.H., winter sports enthusiasts head for eastern slope trails of Cranmore Mountain.

Sylvania last night gained the right to meet Penn Bottles of Sheffield for the first half championship of the City Basketball League by thumping Bakers, 55-32, in the final night's play of the first round. In the preliminary, O'Connors topped Youngsville Roller Rink, 22-15, in a low-scoring contest.

The win for the Sylvania gives them a first half record of six wins against one loss and deadlocks the mewith Penn Bottles. Date for the playoff match has not been set yet.

Powerful O'Connors of Sheffield were held to a meager 22-15 win over Youngsville Skating Rink. The O'Connors took a 6-2 lead at the end of the first period, but the

NCAA Views Biggest Boom In Athletics

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Inter-collegiate sports are in for the biggest boom in history in the opinion of the nation's college sports leaders who gathered here for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual convention.

College presidents, coaches and athletic directors—almost to a man—say great things are in store for college sports in the post-war era. They also saw a variety of dangers although they didn't all agree on what they were.

There were warnings about professionalism, pleas for an enlarged intramural program, denunciation of post-season bowl games, and programs outlined for control of athletic scholarships.

Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, re-elected president of the organization, reported that many college presidents thought the N. C. A. A. should be given the power to enforce its code of conduct.

But when the convention ended yesterday and all the speeches were over, no action had been taken on any of the proposals.

For at least another year, until N. C. A. A. holds its 1947 meeting in New York City Jan. 6-7, control of intercollegiate athletics will remain in the hands of separate colleges, universities or conferences.

The association did approve articles of alliance with the Amateur Athletic Union which provide that each organization may send four non-voting members to the other's convention.

The articles also set out (1) at jointly sponsored meets, N. C. A. A. rules will apply to college events and A. A. U. rules in open events; (2) membership of a college sponsoring a tournament or meet will determine whether N. C. A. A. or A. A. U. rules will apply.

Sinkwich Contract Gets Court Fight

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A court fight loomed today whether all-America footballer Frankie Sinkwich, of Georgia, would play professional football this fall with the Detroit Lions of the National League or the New York Yankees of the newly organized All-America Conference.

Sinkwich, voted the NFL's most valuable player in 1944, bolted the Lions yesterday by signing a three-year contract for Dan Topping's Yankees at a salary reported to be $12,000 annually.

The move brought a prompt reaction from Detroit officials who declared they were "prepared to go to court" to enforce a two-year contract with Sinkwich which they contend has one year to run because he did not play in 1945 when he was in the army.

"Even if that isn't so (that the Detroit contract has one more year to run) we have an option on Sinkwich's services until Aug. 1," asserted Fred Mandel, owner of the Detroit club.

YOU ARE WELCOME IN ANY OF WARREN'S CHURCHES SUNDAY

"Welcome Home" Service Address By Army Chaplain

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in connection with the divine service, returning service people of the First Methodist congregation will be given an official "Welcome Home" service.

The speaker for the occasion will be Chaplain Stephen T. Cray, son of C. J. Cray, who grew up in First Methodist Sunday school and church. He was later graduated at Hotchkiss School, Yale University and Union Theological Seminary. Prior to his entering service, he was pastor of the First Presbyterian church in St. Clair Shores, Mich.

He served with the 39th General Hospital, Yale Medical Unit, and for some months was located in the islands of New Zealand and Saipan. Chaplain Cray will shortly assume the new responsibilities of chaplain at the University of Rochester.

For this welcoming service, the choir will sing "Gloria in Excelsis" by Mozart and "The Lord's Prayer" by Schuncker. Organ music will include "The Heavens Are Telling" by Haydn and "Marche Celebre" by Lochner.

Church school convenes at 10 a. m. and at 6:30 p. m., Richard Schuler will lead the Youth Fellowship. The discussion topic will be "Religion and Science".

Spiritual Retreat For County Pastors

The Warren County Ministerial Association held its first meeting for the year last Monday forenoon at the First Methodist church. Rev. P. Elmer Landerdahl, president of the association, presided. The meeting was designated as a "Ministers' Spiritual Retreat", with Dr. H. H. Barr in charge.

Following the singing of some hymns and the reading in unison of the 24th Psalm, Dr. Barr led the members in an inspiring and challenging meditation, based on Exodus 33:14, "And He said, my presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest."

A season of prayer, in which many of the members participated, followed the meditation. The meeting was brought to a close with the benediction pronounced by Dr. H. H. Barr.

On Atom Energy

Howard Blakeslee, Associated Press science editor, and Glenn Babb, The Press Association's foreign news editor, described the theory of the atomic bomb and its practical effect in war.

Babb, who toured the wreckage of Nagasaki, said 30,000 persons died when the bomb released its energy 2,000 feet over the city and that Japanese officials told him 30,000 others died of the after effect.

Blakeslee said the disintegration charge in the bomb weighed something more than two pounds, and the elements which exploded had to be brought together in a few milliseconds of a second.

Alan Gould, assistant general manager of the Associated Press, told delegates that the flash is declining as a journalistic device. He said the news service would rather transmit a publishable bulletin than the short, one-sentence flash involved.

Efforts to halt another scheduled strike for Monday, by some 800,000 CIO United Steelworkers, continued in New York today as union leaders met with U. S. Steel Corporation officials to discuss the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.
